Blue Vinyl

With humor, chutzpah, and a piece of vinyl siding firmly in hand, award-winning filmmaker Judith Helfand and award-winning cinematographer Daniel B. Gold search for the truth about polyvinyl chloride (PVC), America's most popular plastic. From Long Island to Louisiana to Italy, they unearth the facts about PVC and its effects on human health and the environment. Back at the starter ranch, Helfand coaxes her terribly patient parents into replacing their vinyl siding on the condition that she can find a healthy, affordable alternative (and it has to look good!). A detective story, an eco-activism doc, and a rollicking comedy, Blue Vinyl shows the dangers posed by PVC at every stage, from factory to incinerator. Consumer consciousness and the "precautionary principle" have never been this much fun! We will also be showing UW short, Plastics – One through Seven, a film about how one woman changed an entire industry and made a nation look for tiny numbers, starring the mother of recycling as we know it, Millie Zantow, 86, resident of North Freedom, Wisconsin and an environmental hero. Please call 798-3881 to sign up!

Extremely Loud & Incredibly Close

by Jonathan Safran Foer

Join the library book club to discuss Jonathan Safran Foer's uniquely creative and riveting novel, Extremely Loud & Incredibly Close.

Nine-year-old Oskar Schell has embarked on an urgent, secret mission that will take him through the five boroughs of New York. His goal is to find the lock that matches a mysterious key that belonged to his father, who died in the World Trade Center on the morning of September 11. This seemingly impossible task will bring Oskar into contact with survivors of all sorts on an exhilarating, affecting, often hilarious, and ultimately healing journey.

Get Low

This is a quirky movie spun out of equal parts folk tale, fable and real-life legend about the mysterious, 1930s Tennessee hermit who famously threw his own rollicking funeral party... while he was still alive. Comedies about death aren't exactly a novel proposition, but Get Low leaves the gallows humor behind for a lighter touch. After losing the love of his life 40 year before, Felix Bush (Robert Duvall) has lived like a hermit ever since. With death on the horizon and guilt weighing him down, the "crazy ol' nutter" decides to go out with a party. Also starring Bill Murray, Sissy Spacek, Lucas Black and Bill Cobbs.
